MyWorldView® Authorized Practitioner Certification Program

Offered over two full days of in-person workshops: March 20 & 21, 2025

This program introduces adult (vertical) development theory and practice, and equips participants to use the MyWorldView® psychometric with clients. Suitable for coaches, leadership development specialists, researchers and leaders.

Why MyWorldView®?

MyWorldView is GLA's validated and reliable AI scored vertical measure & digital learning experience. Based on over 50 years of research, MyWorldView helps locate your current worldview in a range of seven. It then teaches you how to increase your awareness of self, of relationships and of the many systems of which you're part. Internationally used in development programmes, recruitment and coaching, MyWorldView is a powerful tool for developing leaders. Learn more in our video here: <https://gla.global/myworldview>

MyWorldView® Authorized Practitioner Certification Program

Offered over two full days of in-person workshops: March 20 & 21, 2025

How it Works

1

MyWorldView® Profile

Take MyWorldView for yourself. The digital debrief will explore how you have profiled, and you'll begin to see how you might use the profile in your coaching practice or organization.

2

Individual Learning

Through our self-paced Solo learning, you'll access videos, articles and key information about MWV and vertical development. You'll also use the Transformations Cards, and receive a free MWV to practice with a client.

3

Workshops

1 x 60 minute virtual gathering call, 2 x day-long workshops in Washington DC and 1 virtual follow-up session (2 hours). Content introduces vertical development theory and provides an overview of the seven worldviews. Emphasizing practice, sessions explore application in coaching/teams, leadership development programs and organizational culture. The final session explores participant experience on using MWV in coaching conversations, and offers further insights for application.

Practice

Practicing using MWV is a key part of this program. During the live event, you will form small groups to explore using MWV in coaching. Before the follow-up call, there is space for practicing with a friend or client, using a complimentary MWV. You will need to submit one-page of reflections on that coaching conversation in order to certify.
