This program introduces adult (vertical) development theory and practice, and equips participants to use the MyWorldView® psychometric with clients. Suitable for coaches, leadership development specialists, researchers and leaders.

Why MyWorldView®?

MyWorldView® is GLA's validated and reliable AI scored vertical measure & digital learning experience. Based on over 50 years of research, MyWorldView® helps locate your current worldview in a range of seven. It then teaches you how to increase your awareness of self, of relationships and of the many systems of which you're part. Internationally used in development programmes, recruitment and coaching, MyWorldView® is a powerful tool for developing leaders. Learn more in our video here: <https://gla.global/myworldview>

MyWorldView® (MWV) Authorized Practitioner Certification Program

Main sessions running on 4, 10, 12, 17, 19 June and 17 July | Practice Group sessions 18 and 24 June

How it Works

1

MyWorldView® Profile

Take MyWorldView® for yourself. The digital debrief will explore how you have profiled, and you'll begin to see how you might use the profile in your coaching practice or organization.

2

Individual Learning

Through our self-paced Solo learning, you'll access videos, articles and key information about MWV and vertical development. You'll also use the digital Transformation Cards, and receive a free MWV to practice with a friend or client. You will need to submit one-page of reflections on that coaching conversation in order to certify.

3

Workshops

6 x 2.5 hours highly interactive webinars. The sessions are an introduction to vertical development theory and provide an overview of the seven worldviews. Emphasising practice, they also explore application in coaching / teams, leadership development programs and organizational culture. Between sessions 5 & 6, there is space for practicing with a client. Session 6 picks up on this practice, and offers further insights for application.

4

Practice Groups

2 x 2 hours. The Practice Groups will enable you to practice two key aspects of application: (1) how to talk about vertical development and MWV with your audience and (2) how to have a coaching conversation using MWV. You'll also have space to practice action-inquiry with others as you digest the program content together.

5

Thought Leader Q&A

An opportunity to ask questions of leading thinkers in the field.
